WITH A VICTORY

The Visitors Defeated in a Game Spiritedly Played in Field and at the Bat.

Cleveland Has Two Runs to Her Credit to Which She Is not Entitled-Notes of the Game-The Association Series.

The League championship base-ball season opened on the local grounds yesterday afternoon and the friends of the Hoosiers have no complaint to make on account of the first contest. For three successive seasons the local team has started off with a defeat, but the luck of the boys seems to have changed, and yesterday the visiting Cleveland club was beaten without any effort on the part of Captain Glasscock and his men. The preparations made for the occasion were carried out to the letter of promise and the opening was eminently satisfactory to everybody but the new League club, The rain in the early part of the day threatened trouble, but by noon the sky was clear and everything looked favorable for a pleasant afternoon. The wind was blowing hard and the air was rather chilly, but the sun soon warmed things and all went well for the ball-tossers and those who were out to see them.

At 2 o'clock everything was in readiness for the starting of the procession from the New Denison. The Hoosiers, dressed in their new and very gaudy uniforms of blue with orange trimmings, were mounted on Frank Bird's gaily decorated tally-ho coach, while the Cleveland players took open carriages. Hacks had been provided by Mr. Thomas Booth, the liveryman, for all who cared to ride, and the procession soon assumed great length. Charles Foster, local correspondent of the New York Sporting Times, kindly invited the base-ball reporters of the daily press to occupy his carriage, and at 2:15 the start was made. The When Band was in the lead, with the Hoosiers. and at 2:15 the start was made. The When Band was in the lead, with the Hoosiers. the Cleveland team, the press, and the local directors, in the order named, following. The line was down Pennsylvania street to Market, east on Market to Delaware, south on Delaware to Washington, weston Washington to Illinois, south on Illinois to Georgia, east on Georgia to Meridian, and north on that street around the Circle and to the park. The parade was witnessed by large crowds, and it seemed to attract as much attention as the first circus of the season. The grounds were reached at 3:15, and the visiting team took the field for a half hour's practice. When the Hoosiers came on to the diamond a crowd of nearly three thousand people received them with enthusiastic applause, while the band played "Johnny Get Your Gun."

Promptly at 4 o'clock Umpire Barnum, dressed in a neat gray uniform, came on to the field and called play. Paul Hines took his place at the bat and sent a hard grounder to Tebeau, who threw the big center-fielder out at first. Glasscock gave Faatz an easy one and quit at the same bag. Denny found the ball, but it was a high fly to Radford, and the side went to the field. Getzein was in great form, and the visitors could do nothing with him. Faatz made the first hit for his side in the second inning, it being a three-bagger, but the next two batters were retired. In the second Indianapolis got her first run. Meyers fiew out to McKean, but McGeachy batters were retired. In the second Indianapolis got her first run. Meyers fiew out to McKean, but McGeachy made a single. The little right fielder hurt himself in practice and after stealing second and reaching third on Snyder's wild throw, retired from the game, Daily taking his place. Scheneck was selected to run for McGeachy and in trying to score on Bassett's grounder was caught and run down. The latter took second on the play and crossed the plate on Buckley's single.

Another was added in the third on Getzein's two-base drive, an out and an error. In the fourth the Hoosiers began to solve the delivery of Mr. Bakely and from that time on he was hit hard and often. Singles by Meyers, Daily and Bassett, with clever base running, enabled the first two named to cross the plate. In the fifth, after Hines had gone out on a fly to McKean, Glasscock made a single and stole second. Denny and Meyers followed with hits and Glasscock scored. Daily got his base on balls, and Bassett made a hit; Meyers tried to go home but was caught at at the plate, Denny having gone in ahead of him.

The local men were blanked in the next interest have the seventh the batting of the plate.

The local men were blanked in the next inning, but in the seventh the batting was inning, but in the seventh the batting was vicious, and the score increased to nine. Denny led off with a home-run hit over the fence, McAleer muffed Meyers's fly, and the runner reached first, stealing second immediately; Daily got his base by grace of Radford's error, but was run down while Meyers chased across the plate; Buckley's fly was in turn muffed by Twitchell, another misplay let him to second, and Scheneck's grounder to the fence sent him home; Glasscock made a hit after Hines home; Glasscock made a hit after Hines had been retired in the eighth, but was left. In the final inning Meyers led off with a double, went to third on an out, but was caught between that base and the plate, and run down. Bassett reached first on a er's choice, and scored on hits by Buckley and Scheneck.

The visitors made their first run in the sixth. McAleer made a single, McKean, the next batter, drove a liner to right, which struck about two feet outside of the foul line, but Umpire Barnum, who was behind the pitcher, and not in a position to see it well, called it a safe hit, and the reached second while McAleer scored. The crowd protested vigorously, but the umpire held to his decision. It was a mistake to call the ball fair, but, no doubt, he thought it was; and was honest in his belief. With this exception the umpiring was excellent, and no fault should be found with him under the circumstances. The third and last run of the visitors was made in the last inning on hits by Faatz and Tebeau, and two outs. Altogether the Hoosiers played a fine game of ball and the public will ask for no better work than they did yesterday. The team pulls together splendidly and the work on the lines was first class. Meyers played a fine game in left and every member of the club deserves praise for an earnest effort to win.

Boyle and Daily will be in the points this afternoon and Beaten or Sprague will pitch for the visitors. If McGeachy is not in condition to play either Getzein or Whitney will be in right field. The score:

PITTSBURG, 8; CHICAGO, 5. PITTSBURG, April 24.—A short, but heavy thunder-storm early this afternoon dampened the participants in the ball clubs' parade, thoroughly soaked the ball grounds and considerably diminished the attendance at the opening of the League season in this city. For five innings Hutchinson's pitching puzzled the home team, while the visitors started out with three runs in the first inning on two bases on balls, hits by Duffy and Anson, and two wild throws by Galvin. The Pittsburgs tied the score in the sixth with a base on balls, three hits and a sacrifice. In the seventh, Sunday to first many times, however.

BOSTON, 8; NEW YORK, 7. NEW YORK, April 24.-The Giants, the champions of the League and world, inaugurated the pennant season at Oakland Park, Jersey City, to-day. The Bostons were their opponents and the victors. Welch pitched like a school-boy in the first two innings, and eight runs scored by Boston in the first two innings won them the game. The Giants played a good up-hill game, but that was all. Ward played with New York, and will probably sign to-morrow. Kelly claimed that the game was played under protest on that account.

PHILADELPHIA, 8; WASHINGTON, 4. WASHINGTON, April 24.—The opening game for the championship here to-day, between the Washington and Philadelphia clubs, was witnessed by more than 4,000 people. Ebright, who was apparently nervous, dropped two easy thrown balls, at the plate. The missplays were responsible for the scoring of five unearned runs. Ebright afterwards did better work, and the others of the team played sharply. The Philadelphias, however, won easily. Keefe was wild, but did good work and Buffinton pitched a steady game. Score.

Shocking Results of a Stroke of Lightning. HALIFAX, April 24.-John Schofield, of Beach Hill, and one of his children were killed by lightning on Sunday night. The family were preparing to retire when a buzzing sound was heard in the room, and Schofield was thrown to the floor, and the whole side of the house fell in, one of the beams falling on and killing a twelve-yearold child. On Monday morning the body of Schofield was lying stretched on the floor, and immediately underneath it was a hole where the electric current had gone through to the ground. Schofield's eyes were protruding from the sockets, his tongue was burned, and his whole body was of a purple color. In a corner of the room Mrs. Schofield and three children were found huddled together in a demented condition. They were removed from the house and cared for by the neighbors.

Masked Men Rob an Old Lady.

FINDLAY, O., April 24.—About 10 o'clock last night four masked men entered the residence of Mrs. Sertel, and at the muzzle of a revolver compelled the old lady to give up $300, all of her savings. They took their departure, after warning the woman that if she raised any alarm within an hour her life would pay the forfeit. This she faithfully observed, although a half-dozen male boarders were asleep in the rooms above. The whole job was done in less than fifteen minutes, and no clew was left by which the robbers could be followed or apprehended.

Counterfeiters Arrested at Louisville. WASHINGTON, April 24.-Captain Bauer of the United States secret service, wired Chief Bell to-day that this morning he arrested William Cain and Richard Levine, counterfeiters, at Louisville, Ky. He found a large quantity of counterfeit dollars, plaster of Paris, molds and counterfeiting material.

INDIANA.

A Victim of Democratic Brutality Exercised in This State at the Last Election.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Noblesville, April 24.-The Hamilton county court has been engaged all week in the trial of a case that originated in Morgan county and was brought here on a charge of venue, wherein Eli Jackson sues William Swope and others for damages for personal injuries resulting from an assault made by Swope upon Mr. Jackson on election day last November. The plaintiff claims, and the evidence tends strongly to prove, that certain Democratic politicians of Morgan county had entered into a conspiracy for the purpose of intimidating Jackson into voting for the entire Democratic ticket. Jackson, who is a wealthy farmer, though Democratic in politics, objected to certain candidates that had been nominated by the Democrats, and asserted his right to vote for certain Republican candidates whom he personally knew to be men well qualified to fill the offices for which they had been nominated. He also advised his friends to do likewise. It was for this offense that Jackson was marked as the victim of the alleged conspiracy. He was knocked down, kicked and beaten in a shameful manner. His spine was injured to such an extent that he cannot walk except with crutches, and is compelled to wear a plaster-of-Paris jacket to support his spine, and he will probably never recover from the effect of his injuries. The amount claimed is $10,000. his injuries. The amount claimed is $10,000. The attorneys in the case are Messrs. Harris, Adams and Cunningham for the plaintiff, assisted by Stafford & Boyd, of this city. The defendant is represented by Ralph Hill, of Indianapolis, and Mitchell and State Senator Cox, of Martinsville, assisted by Kane & Davis. There are more than one hundred witnesses here from Morgan hundred witnesses here from Morgan county, and the case will probably occupy the court for the rest of the week. The attack made on Jackson is regarded as outrageous and unprovoked.

A Slippery Horse Purchaser. Special to the Indiapapolis Journal.

LAPORTE, April 24.—Some ten days ago a man arrived here who gave his name as G. H. Pugsley, of Rochester, N. Y. He looked like and claimed to be a stock-raiser. Going to Banks & Hilt and the Door Prairie Live Stock Association, importers of Clydesdale and Cleveland bay horses, he presented a letter of recommendation from a Lockport (N. Y.) bank, and on the strength of it purchased $3,000 worth of horses, giving his notes for $2,200 and a check on the Lockport bank for $800. The horses were shipped to Chicago, where Pugsley said he had some others, and would ship all East at once. Yesterday the cheek came back dishonored. Mr. Banks at once proceeded to Chicago, where he telegraphed this afternoon that he had recovered the horses, but Pugsley had flown.

Presbyterian Board of Missions. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, April 24 .- The eighteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Presbyterian Board of Missions of the Northwest is now in session at the First Presbyterian Church in this city, and promises to be one of the most interesting and profitable meetings of that society that has ever been held. Several hundred ladies from all States of the Northwest are here, besides hundreds of visitors from various North western cities. Mrs. Benjamin Douglas, of Chicago, is presiding. To-morrow's session will prove most interesting, when the officers of the ensusing year will be chosen, and the place of next meeting will be fixed.

Suing for the Price of an Eye. Special to the Indianapolis Journal

EVANSVILLE, April 24.—In the Superior Court, to-day, Lorenzo D. Carrier brought suit against Dr. Albert B. Barker, a specialist of Cincinnati, for $10,000 damages. In his complaint, Carrier alleges that Barker, during one of his trips to this city, undertook to cure a cataract on Carrier's eye, but performed his work so unskillfully that he cut into the eye and totally destroyed his sight. The complaint further sets forth that Barker performed the operation before the cataract was sufficiently matured to be ripe for such an operation, and that Carrier is, in consequence, rendered

A Paralyzed Musician. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

EVANSVILLE, April 24.-Prof. Geo. W. Warren, an old and respected citizen of Evansville, and one of the best known band leaders in the West, was stricken with paralysis on Monday, and is not expected to recover. He was the originator of Warren's famous Crescent City Band, which, in 1872, caught the Southern ear at New Orleans with its wonderful rendition of "Dixie," and won for it a fame that has continued ever since. Professor Warren is a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias, and belongs to the Uniform Rank.

Run Over and Killed.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW CASTLE, April 24.—George Messick, an old and highly respected citizen, who was employed as a teamster by S. P. Jennings, was killed this morning by being run over by a heavily loaded wagon. He was driving a team of mules to a wagon loaded with building material, and, by some accident, fell from the seat on top of the wagon down in front of it, two wheels of the heavy vehicle passing over his body. He was removed to his home on Pennsylvania avenue, where he died an hour afterwards from the effect of his injuries.

Consolidating Live Stock Insurance. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, April 24.—The Indiana Live Stock Insurance Company of this city has absorbed the Central Live Stock Insurance Company of Indianapolis. This will add about $300,000 to the business of the Indiana company. The consolidation was brought about by the boards of directors of the two companies, and this evening the stockholders of the Indiana company met and ratified the arrangement. Dr. Baker, the secretary of the Central company, will be in the employ of the Indiana Missing Boy Found in a Reservoir. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

EVANSVILLE, April 24.—The body of Leo Miller, aged ten, who disappeared from home on the 19th, was found to-day in the water-works reservoir. The body was swollen beyond recognition, but the clothing was identified by the heart-broken mother. It is supposed the little fellow was playing on a float which was used in repairs on the reservoir, and, falling overboard, was drowned.

Boy Burned to Death. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LAPORTE, April 24.-A little son of Thos. Dempsey, of Stillwell, this county, was burned to death this forenoon. He and his little sister were playing around a bonfire, when their clothing caught fire. In trying to save her brother, the little girl was horribly burned, but it is expected she will re-

Too Rich to Wear Diamonds.

San Francisco Chronicle. He was very fond of diamonds. Every-body who knew him knew his weakness for those jewels, although everybody knew that he was poor. They used to laugh at him kindly, because when he hadn't a quarter to buy a cheap meal he'd show a Kohinoor in his shirt front. One day he made a lucky strike and found himself rich. He went off to Ecrope, and in the mean-time he kept gaining riches. He came back most quietly dressed, without a sign of jewelry of any kind. An old friend met him and looked at him. "There's something wrong about you Dan. You lack something. Where are the diamonds?

"Oh, ---," said Dan, "I'm too --- rich to wear diamonds." Spring Styles in South Africa: He was a Kaffir bold.
